

Sustainable means producing a product out of materials that will not harm people or the planet, deplete resources, or harm communities through the production process.